Mrs. Blanche Thompson wrote in 1970: "My husband belongs to the Moon family. His mother Sarah Jane Moon married Charles R. Thompson. She was daughter of James and Jane Baugh Moon; granddaughter of William and Susannah Hancock Moon; and great granddaughter of James and Elizabeth Bradley Moon. James and Elizabeth Bradley Moon lived and died in Chatham Co., N.C. 1 mile from Marley's Mill. . . The Bible was brought to Indiana by "Aunt Betty" (Elizabeth Moon). She was single and came here to live with her brother, supposedly after her parents had died. She lived in my husband's grandfather's home until her death--and so we inherited the Bible." Mrs. Thompson's papers are now in possession of another daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Beck of Arkansas.

Abby Frost Cemetery

Posted By: Karen McNeely <Send E-Mail>

Date: Sunday, 19 March 2006, at 12:09 p.m.

My gg greatgrandmother was Rachel Brooks Beckner. I have two dates of birth, either Feb 21, 1823 or April 24, 1824. She was married to Benjamin Beckner on Oct 5, 1837 in Johnson Co MO. I do know that they moved to the Dallas TX area after their marriage. I just found that she was buried in this cemetery. I am assuming that this cemetery is for Confederate soldiers and their families. I wonder if you can provide any information regarding this family. I have no information at this time regarding Benjamin's death date or place of burial. Their daughter Sarah Ellen married Barney Banks Kemp who did serve in the Confederate army. I don't have those particular details with me at the moment but do remember that he enlisted in Fort Worth in 1862.

Thank you for your time and attention to this query as well as the research that is being done for history and for all the families of these people.

LOCATION Coal River Road to Vorpes Road turn left. Cemetery begins beside a gray frame house. Some plots neglected, others mowed.

HIGH LAWN CEMETERY
(Pages 42-43)

Taken by Bill and Maxine Swango
(Also called Hudson Cemetery, BANGOR CEMETERY, & EPISCOPAL CEMETERY)
LOCATED at the intersection of Kanawha Terrace and South Walnut Street in the High Lawn section of Saint Albans.

According to Mr. Dart Ellis, the local historian, this land was part of a survey by George Washington. A Mr. Hudson bought 300 acres from the Washington heirs, and he set aside 2 acres for a church and cemetery. In his will he names a son executor with instructions to maintain the cemetery. Meanwhile, the old James River and Kanawha Turnpike toll road was moved from the area near Kanawha River to the present site of Kanawha Terrace. When the son died he had stated in his will that his shares in the Kanawha Turnpike were to be used for maintenance of the cemetery and the building of a stone wall around the plot.

By 1825 the little log church was a part of the Episcopal Bangor Parish, and it was called Bangor Church and BANGOR CEMETERY replaced the name Hudson Cemetery. Later the log building burned.

The slave portion of the cemetery was located farther up the hill on the east side of what is now the 800 block of South Walnut St. In the 1920's large beechnut trees towered

sonville High School.

Taken by Wilma Pauley Gardman & Patricia Pauley Butterworth, Oct. 1980
LOCATED at Frame, Kanawha County, leave I-79 (going north from Charleston) at Frame Exit. Go 3 miles toward Frame Post Office to Pauley Chapel, a white frame church on left side of road. Unpaved road goes up hill in back of church (paved road leads to a private residence. This unpaved road is quite passable for cars and is a short distance to walk if car is left at Chapel.

Parentetical information concerning persons buried in this cemetery was gathered from: (1) Research of Wilma Gardman (2) information from Mary L. Pauley Atkinson and (3) extensive verbal information regarding unmarked graves and relationships of various persons from Delya M. Pauley (Mrs Buel Pauley).

"OLD" PAULEY CEMETERY

Taken by Wilma Gardman
LOCATED on point of land, above road, at curve just before Pauley Chapel (same side of road). Burial was discontinued in this cemetery about 1894 when the present cemetery was established. It is assumed that the first burial was about 1845.

This acreage was bought by Daniel Pauley in 1855 from John T. Reynolds and his wife, Mary H. Reynolds. The Pauley family lived for a time in the Reynolds log house on the property.

PLEASANT HILL CEMETERY

ACKWORTH CEMETERY

Ackworth Cemetery is located in the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 23 of Lincoln Township. To reach the cemetery, follow Highway 92 east out of Indianola for four miles. As you enter Ackworth, the cemetery is on the north next to the Ackworth Friends Church. 1

The earliest settlers began to pitch tents near present-day Ackworth as early as 1846. David Lair arrived March 27, 1846 from Clinton County, Ohio, and was accompanied by Alexander Ginder, William Ginder, Thomas Feagins, and Matthias Reynolds. In April, 1846, R.M. Hightower, Thomas Hightower, Dillon Haworth, Jonathan and William Dillon and Sanford Brown arrived, followed in June by Samuel Haworth.

Many of these early settlers were members of the Society of Friends, or Quakers, and they met in homes in the area which was called South River Settlement. Other early families were Lair, Carey, Barnett and Henderson. The pioneers had come from the timbered regions of Ohio and Indiana and chose to settle in the timber of Lincoln township rather than on the prairie.

The first marriage in the township took place December 16, 1847 between Paris P. Henderson, who came to the county in October, 1847, and Miss Martha Haworth. They obtained their license at Fort Des Moines. The first child born near the South River Settlement was a daughter born to William Ginder on September 15, 1848. The next day a son, John Hancock Henderson, was born to P.P. Henderson in a log cabin west of the present church. The third day a daughter was born to Jonathan Dillon.

The first death in the area was a child of Thomas Feagin's who died in the fall of 1846. Early burials were made northwest of the settlement in Goshen Cemetery near the Goshen Meeting House. Goshen members joined with the South River Settlement for worship, so the meeting house and cemetery were abandoned. At that time, Pleasant Bond and Sally Bond, for the consideration of Love and Esteem, conveyed to the Society of Friends Samuel Owens, Benjamin Hensbow, and Elias Newlin as trustees of the South River Monthly and to their successors two acres of land. In Plat Book 1, Page 84, the deed was recorded on May 11, 1860. In 1852 the first burial was made in the Present-day Ackworth Cemetery. Land was given for the cemetery and meeting house by members of the Society of Friends. In Deed Book 11, Page 49, Mahlon Haworth and his wife Mary, deeded to the Trustees of the South River Monthly, a tract of land consisting of three acres for the consideration of Love and Esteem. This is dated June 4, 1860. The plots in the east part of the cemetery are shown as being the east 129 feet with lots varying from 9X4 feet to 9X21 feet. The west side is at an angle and is six lots wide, then there is a driveway 6 feet 8 inches wide, and than a row of lots 9X9 feet and two rows 9X21 feet each.

In the fall of 1852, Nathan Craven, coming from North Carolina, bought the last whole quarter section of 160 acres and paid the government price of $1.25 per acre. The township of Lincoln was filled up. Ackworth was laid out by J.M. and J.H. Haworth. In 1852, the Quakers built their first meeting house, a long, low, frame building that stood northeast of the present building. Additions were made to it as the Society of Friends grew.

In 1868 Jeptha Morgan, Isaac Starbuck, George D. Haworth, John Tomlinson, Samuel Owen and Jeremiah and John H. Haworth and others formed a stock company to establish an Academy for education. They took stock to $6,000 in five dollar shares and after a hard struggle, a two-story, 40X60 foot, brick building was erected. An Englishman named Braithwaite, from Ackworth, England, donated $1,000 for a library in the Academy, so the school was named Ackworth after the oldest Society of Friends school in England. Professor Eli W. Beard was the first teacher at the Ackworth Academy.

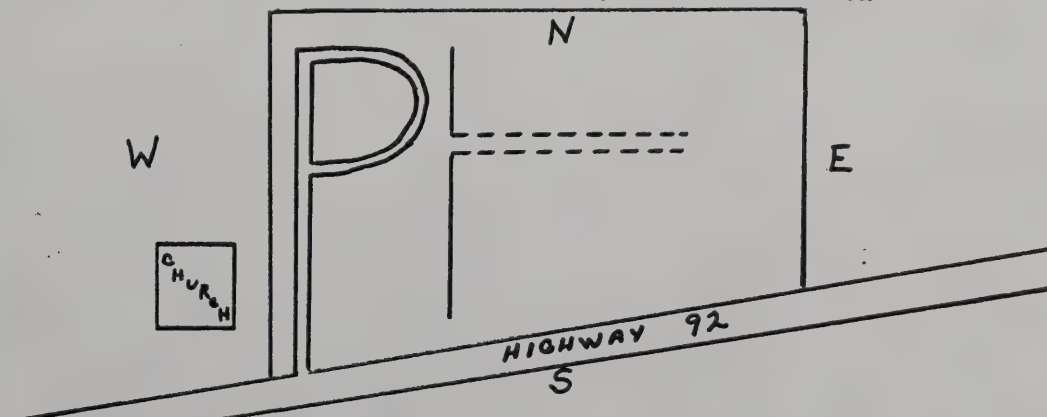

J.W. Morgan secured the establishment of a Post Office and called it Friend's Grove. In 1871 the name of South River Quarterly Meeting was changed to Ackworth. The town was named Ackworth in 1874 and was incorporated June 1, 1881.

In 1908 the Academy building was remodeled at a cost of $2,800 for meeting purposes. The church building was destroyed by fire on December 24, 1924 and the early church and cemetery records were lost in that fire. Many of the records had previously been copied by the Quakers and are on file at Penn College in Oskaloosa, and also on microfilm at the State Historical Library in Des Moines. The church was rebuilt using the old walls and the cost was $7,250. The new building was dedicated August 16, 1925.

In 1968 the Ackworth Garden Club established a Memory Garden in the cemetery. A bench and planter was added to beautify Memorial Gardens. Many roses and trees were planted as memorials to loved ones. The Ackworth Cemetery is under the care of the Ackworth Cemetery Improvement Association. Recently more land was added to the cemetery.

Ackworth Cemetery contains row after row of white, limestone gravestones which represent the oldest part of the cemetery. Most are legible. These white stones were cut from the DeVore hill, the long hill east out of Ackworth and west of the Palmyra Road. Scattered among the old white stones are field stones, many bearing Roman numerals. These field stones mark the graves of early Quakers. Their law formerly required that graves be marked with native stone that was no larger than 12 inches. Each stone was marked with hand-hewn Roman numerals, some of which are no longer visible. The Roman numerals were assigned according to the order of burial in the cemetery, and the Quakers kept excellent records of who each number stood for. The field stones exemplify the Quaker ideals of simplicity and plainness. Death was the great leveler, so the Quakers forbid fancy, frivolous headstones.

Information from Ackworth Cemetery was copied in the mid 1970s and updated in June, 1978. In the late fall of 1979 and early winter of 1980, it was updated and proofed by Barbara Rasko and Peggy Hutchison.

New Garden Cemetery aka Bentler Farm or Friends

Abandoned cemetery north and east of St. Paul in Marion Township. Located back in a field its been reported that the stones are gone at this time. At the time this cemetery was recorded, it was evident that there had been many more burials. Notice the large amount of children. It is possible that these families moved from this area and other members are buried elsewhere. First know burial: 1848
Last known burial: 1875

At various intervals north and east of 21.75 in the section, however, localities are in which it has been reported that the stones are deposited. At the time the survey was made, it was evident that there was a very large amount of stone in the large amount of section. It is possible that these stones have been deposited there by the wind, or by the action of the water.

Dear Zandra Horn,

I spent this afternoon at the library.
There are no Moon burials in the Moon, now called Christensen Cemetery.
However I found the following in the Montrass Cemetery. They are not the names you mentioned but I will list them in hope there is a connection.

Howard Moon April 16, 1848 - Oct. 19, 1867
son of A. A. and Aura
born in Avon, Lorain Co. Ohio
Company I 10 Ohio ~~Cavalry~~ Cavalry.

Charles P. Moon 1821 - 1898
wife Almira Griswold 1838 - 1911

Eva Mae Moon May 8, 1884 - Mar. 29, 1967

Roy Moon Sept. 23, 1892 - Nov. 24, 1935

Iowa Major M. C. Res. World War II

Paul Moon 1917 - 1918.

I searched the townships of Lee Co. in
The History of Lee Co. pub. 1879 and found no Moons.

I searched the marriage records which Lee Co. Gen. Soc. has but they are not complete. Lee Co. first marriage records were kept at St. Madison 1837. One book was found in Keokuk 1848 - 1851. No more to be found in Reokuk until 1873.

I will check 1850 Census book next time I go to library and see what I can find on micro-film. I especially read all the history gave about Pleasant Ridge Twp. and was disappointed.

Please let me know if any of the above moons tie in.

Thank you for your check to the Society. The money we receive is spent on more books etc. for research.

Sincerely,
(Mrs. Eston) Elaine Williams

SMITH'S FIRST DIRECTORY

—OF—

OKLAHOMA TERRITORY

For the Year Commencing August 1st, 1890.

Embracing an Accurate Index of Residents in all the Cities and Towns of the Territory, together with the Names of all Homesteaders, giving Quarter Section, Township and Range; also, the County Officers, as Appointed by Governor Steele, for the Seven Counties, and the Federal Appointments by President Harrison.

JAMES W. SMITH,
PUBLISHER,
GUTHRIE, OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.

Note: Apparent error in the location (northeast $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 28, Township 19 North, Range 7 West) given for George Beckner. It is the same as George Beckman. Township 19 North, Range 7 West would be located in Kingfisher County.

On 1890 census George is enumerated in Township 11 North, Range 1 West. This is along the north edge of Cleveland County and is in the strip of land that was given to Oklahoma County in September 1891.
